

Buy an Axia console, and we'll buy you a Telos phone system.
(Just don't tell our accountants.)

That's right - we'll give you a Telos Nx12 twelve-line talkshow system - the most powerful, advanced phone system on the market.

Here's how it works: Purchase an Axia console with the following equipment before October 30, 2009:

- An Element 2.0 console (any size)
- An Element CPU / Power Supply
- An Axia Studio Engine mixing engine
(Sorry, PowerStation purchases do not qualify for this promotion)
- f any type of Axia node (Mic, Analog, AES, or Router Selector)
- One of any style Telos Call Controller, including a Desktop Director, Console Director or basic Call Controller (which requires separate handset).

Once your purchase order is placed through any Axia distributor, we will supply (at no charge — directly from Axia) a Telos Nx12 Multi-Line Talkshow System.

The fine print: Offer expires October 30, 2009, or sooner with 30 days notice at the sole discretion of Axia. Free Nx12 is POTS version with Analog IO p/n 2001-00208. Limit one free Nx12 per customer, per studio project.
